Designing Quality Lessons that Meet State Standards, Benchmarks, and NEW Grade Level Content Expectations

Grade 4-10
All Subjects

In this three-session workshop, learn how to design lessons that achieve what students need to Know, Understand and Do as related to your curriculum, state standards and benchmarks, and/or grade level expectations. Also addressed will be ideas for embedding content literacy into your instruction and how to easily create and develop rubrics for assessment. As an added bonus, learn to design lessons that meet the needs of learners with different learning styles and readiness levels. You WILL be designing lessons, so bring along the curriculum and standards used at your grade level and subject area Since two heads are better than one, why not plan to bring along someone who teaches with you and design twice the lessons!

Grammar Through Inquiry: A New Approach to Breathe Life into the Study of Grammar

Are you a teacher who wants to teach grammar, but would like a new approach? Are you aware of current research, but still struggling to put it into practice? Do you want to examine student work to know how to help students improve their own writing and perform better on standardized tests? If so, please join us for a three-part workshop to explore answers to these and other questions. We'll use an interactive approach to learn new strategies, experience inquiry-based grammar lessons and create personalized action plans to incorporate grammar inquiry into your current teaching practice.
